Petitions seek open range end

Books shot, high school shelled

Leave it to George!

The city school board learned Monday night that the water line to the new high school is full of shells—apparently caused by George Consolidated crews installing the city water main.

What's more, they were told nobody knows who connected the water service into the school without any notice so a part of the building was flooded and about $500 worth of new books damaged.

Mississippi Mechanical Contractors, Inc., notified the architect, Charles L. Proffer, that it would not accept the responsibility for any damage caused by the presence of shells in the water system. The shells, wrote Burlin Stappleton of the contracting firm, "can be a source of never ending headaches in regard to the maintenance of this installation." He asked Proffer for an immediate ruling on the situation.

Superintendent J.D. McCullough told the general contractor, W.M. Craig, would have about $200 bill for overtime work in pumping out the building after the flooding. The water apparently was turned on about 1:30 to 2 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 27 so he did not believe there was any damage to the building.

While Robert L. Hamilton, board president, suggested the school board turn over Craig's bill to the city for collection, the board's attorney, Sam L. Favre, Jr., suggested the contractor's insurance firm should handle it with the water contractor's insurance company.

One petition calling for an election on ending the open range law in Hancock County and another to curb livestock on the highways by fencing in R.R. 43 and 603 were presented to the board of supervisors Monday.

A decision on which proposition to take is expected when the board reconvenes this Monday. Indications are that supervisors will be compelled to call an election on the open range question under the state law which required 20 per cent of the qualified electors outside the municipalities to petition for a vote.

The election petition, presented by Oscar Proctor, was signed by more than 1,350 persons. On the basis of voter registration, 720 names were necessary. Circuit Clerk LaMar Otis made a preliminary check and found 989 qualified before he stopped counting.

Otis is now checking the fencing petition at the request of the supervisors.

Post Office Box 230

Dear Mr. Glass:

I am to advise you that many friends, and acquaintances, as well as members of my family, have brought to my attention the pictorial editorial with its accompanying editorial matter, appearing in your September 29, 1966, issue of "Sea Coast Echo", entitled "Thrift Pays", with a picture of my residence along with that of Alton Adolph Kellar of Beat #2, Hancock County, Mississippi. This editorial can serve only one purpose, and that is to reflect upon our honesty, integrity, and has caused me and my family great humiliation and embarrassment.

I am giving you this written notice before any Court action is instituted by me as a result of this libelous editorial, even though I do not believe that you are entitled to the protection of the provisions of Section 1059.7 of the Mississippi Code 1942, annotated and recompiled, although such section in the case of libelous matter other than editorials gives you an opportunity to publish an apology in mitigation thereof. In order that there may be no question about the matter to which I object, said article appears in Volume 75, Number 30, of your paper, dated September 29, 1966, and is reproduced pictorially, and attached to this notice as Exhibit "A".

You well know, I do not depend upon the income from my office as supervisor of Beat #1. I have had other income for all of my life. I note that in your photograph of my home you were very careful to eliminate the trailer park which really occupies the front of my property on U. S. Highway 90, and which I inhabit myself. You also fail to mention that my wife leaves home before daylight every morning, and is employed in New Orleans at a good job. Of course, these facts are known to you, but you have shown your usual disregard for the truth. You are now given an opportunity to make any apology you may desire.

Very truly,

H. G. Dean

Dear Mr. Glass:

This is to advise you that many friends and acquaintances, as well as members of my family, have brought to my attention the pictorial editorial with its accompanying editorial matter, appearing in your September 29, 1966, issue of "The Sea Coast Echo", entitled "Thrift Pays", with a picture of my residence along with that of H. G. Dean of Beat #1, Hancock County, Mississippi. This editorial can serve only one purpose, and that is to reflect upon our honesty, integrity, and has caused me and my family great humiliation and embarrassment.

I am giving you this written notice before any Court action is instituted by me as a result of this libelous editorial, even though I do not believe that you are entitled to the protection of the provisions of Section 1059.7 of the Mississippi Code 1942, annotated and recompiled, although such section in the case of libelous matter other than editorials gives you an opportunity to publish an apology in mitigation thereof. In order that there may be no question about the matter to which I object, said article appears in Volume 75, Number 30, of your paper, dated September 29, 1966, and is reproduced pictorially, and attached to this notice as Exhibit "A".

You well know, I do not depend upon the income from my office as supervisor of Beat #2. I have had other income for all of my life. Of course, you are very familiar with the fact that hundreds of people in my beat, including myself, have had to sell their property where they have lived all their life and relocate because of NASA. As a matter of fact, my children were the fifth generation raised on my property, which I was forced to sell or have condemned. Since you have in the past made a claim that you are a lawyer, you should also know that when you sell your property under condemnation, it is necessary to reinvest it in a new home in order to avoid the payment of taxes and a loss of income. So, what you have done is to take a picture of what is left of my original family home and land and try to make it appear that I have done something criminally wrong.

You are now given an opportunity to make any type of apology you desire.

Very truly,

Alton Adolph Kellar, Supervisor
Beat #2, Hancock County, Mississippi

Apologize!

For what?

Reprinted on this page are letters from Supervisor H. G. Dean and Alton Adolph Kellar complaining of an editorial in the Sept. 29 issue of this paper and threatening suit because of it. The purpose appears to be to extract an apology from this paper, but for what the letters do not say.

The editorial in question primarily questioned the supervisors spending of county funds and pointed to the fact how they apparently handled their own funds so much better. We can hardly apologize for or retract the fact that the homes pictured are those of the two supervisors or that their pay is other than $408.00 a month. We feel that it is fair comment to say the supervisors have been spendthrift with county funds, although Beat 1 ended up the past fiscal year with a balance of $61,000 and Beat 2 with a balance of $46,000 (Beat 4 and 5 also have substantial balances). A check of the declining balance in the Seawall fund, and purchases such as a $103,000 substandard asphalt plant we believe justify this opinion.

This leaves but one idea to apologize for and that is that these men manage their personal funds extremely well. Their letters point out the fact that they have income, presumably substantial, beyond their salaries as supervisors, and had such "all" their lives. Of course, this is something of which we have no knowledge, or any reason to know, but does show us wrong in our compliment to them.

As Mr. Kellar well knows, the Echo's editor and executive editor, then managing editor, were pleased at his election as a supervisor. Our contacts with him as trustee of the county school board had convinced us of his ability. Any embarrassment and humiliation to him appears to us to be based on some distortion of the editorial, something for which we cannot be responsible, even though we may regret it.

While admittedly we would not have voted for Mr. Dean, the comments concerning Mr. Kellar essentially apply to him.

Except in his capacity as supervisor, we have had little or no contact with Dean. Such conversations as we have had have mostly been of pleasantries although repeatedly, as in his letter, Mr. Dean has knowingly and falsely accused us of untruths, but we have merely considered the source.

Such at least was the state of our relationship until September 29, 1966. On that date, on two occasions, Mr. Dean telephoned us and on both occasions, used language that was vile, vulgar, obscene, and calumnious in the extreme. His temper and tongue showed clearly that he is unfit to represent any decent person in any capacity.

Memo to Supervisor Dean:

It might have paid bigger dividends to you if instead of getting your attorney to draft a libelous letter, you had asked him for an explanation of Section 2291.5, Chapter 1, Title 11, (Crimes) of the Mississippi code and Section 1059 of Title 8 of the same code.

"Yet within it must be discerned," Patterson said, "as it is beyond the pale of the law since it is not in harmony with the regulations prescribed by the legislature."

The court upheld the lower court decree in all of the 10 projects not built by Saxon, but it ordered the case back to lower court for an accounting in the other 10, and an injunction against future actions. It also ordered a judgment against Harvey payable to the county treasurer.

Except for the two larger projects not built, the last submitted by Saxon involved work estimated to have been worth several hundred dollars each.

Scott County land of Central By-Products Co., involving a road linking the plant with U. S. 90. Saxon alleged the Crosby project cost $3,000 and the central project $5,000.

The chancellor found "the evidence submitted wholly and completely fails to meet the burden of proof required to show that the roads which are the subject of this suit are not public roads."

However, in an opinion by Justice Neville Patterson, the Supreme Court said the chancellor erred in holding Saxon failed to prove several of the business was linked with the county's big chicken industry.

ers "substantially to the point that the equipment and machinery were used on private property. There is no attempt by Harvey to justify his admitted actions in Newton County," the opinion said.

Low limits the work of supervisory visitors to their own counties.

In several projects, the court said it found the charges of installation of machinery, materials and employees "were substantially supported by the evidence."

The only justification for the

By-products Company Road, the court said was that the public interest required one because the business was linked with the county's big chicken industry.

Memo to Supervisor Dean:

Ballet school to open in Bay

Mrs. D. Weddington Stewart, founder and present director of the Mississippi Coast Ballet, will open her school of dance Saturday, Oct. 21, on the second floor of the Sea Coast Hotel.

Registration will be from 2 to 3 p.m. Students over 19 years of age may audition for the adult group.

Former professional dancer and New York City teacher, Mrs. Stewart came to the coast in 1959 as director of dance for Gulf Park College. She established her own school in 1960 and founded the Mississippi Coast Ballet three years later.

The D. Weddington Stewart School of Dance is offering instruction in Bay St. Louis in corporation with Mrs. Dan M. Russell, Jr., who operated the Russell School of Dance in the same location until last year.

Postoffice to deliver zip numbers

National Zip Code week is being observed in Bay St. Louis this week with a mail delivered to each house showing their zip number.

In addition a form will be put into each mail box asking patrons to list commonly used addresses and return it to the postoffice. Postal employees will check each address, add the zip code and return the form to the patron.

This will enable our patrons to have all zip code numbers they will normally use, "Andy Becker, postmaster said yesterday.

Becker said the Postoffice department, estimated that 65 percent of all mail volume is carrying zip code numbers.

The Bay Postoffice intends to re-number its three rural routes later this week.

A clip covering any changes will be delivered to the patron concerned, the postmaster concluded.

City police investigate 5 robberies

Bay St. Louis city police are investigating five break-ins of local businesses established, two on Saturday night, the others, late Monday.

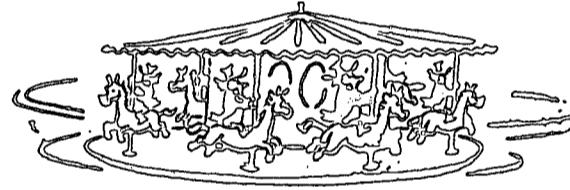

City Police Chief Lethan Garriga says a small amount of money was taken from a box on the pool table at Bay Ice Cream, after entry had been gained through the side door and a similar amount was stolen from the cigarette machine at Frootos Co.

Should the railroad not hear from the ICC before this date the ruling is that it may discontinue the trains subject to their re-instatement if the commission rules in favor of continuation.

KILN DEDICATION

from embarrassing impasses. Once was in 1954 when Foreign Minister Molotov, Gromyko's predecessor, helped call the Geneva Conference to get France and indirectly the United States—which had been financing France—out of the Indo-China mess.

The second was in 1961-62, when Khrushchev deliberately helped President Kennedy pull his chariot out of the fire in Laos where we had become overextended and hopelessly bogged down.

So the big question is: Will Gromyko help pull us out of Viet Nam, where we have 317,000 troops involved in a war that may last eight to ten years, which is undermining the Johnson administration, causing serious inflation and alienating our friends in Asia and our allies in Europe?

On the surface this is a situation which should make Gromyko and his chiefs in the Kremlin rub their hands with glee. But political recrimination isn't as important in this case as the bitter gulf developing between Russia and Red China and the Russian desire for peace.

They know that the USA and USSR today can control the peace of the world, and in December, 1961, Gromyko reported to the 22nd Communist Party Congress that Secretary of State Rusk had told him the United States and Russia must work together to this end. Gromyko added that he was convinced Rusk was sincere and he, Gromyko, believed there was a real chance to better Soviet-American relations.

MOSCOW rescued US

Today, the Russians are tired and unhappy about the Viet Nam war. Nevertheless they are practical. And when the same Secretary Rusk had dinner in New York two weeks ago with the same Foreign Minister Gromyko, they had an interesting interchange over Peace Corridor Thomas Dawson and nuclear weapons for Germany.

Rusk wanted Dawson released. Gromyko made no promises—though later releasing him—and went on to discuss Soviet fear of West Germany's military revival, especially the German bid for more control over nuclear weapons. He knew, of course, that Chancellor Erhard was soon coming to Washington.

President Johnson got the message. And though he and Erhard are old friends and he was fully aware of the political problems Erhard faced at home, Johnson did not budge from our ban on letting Germany have any control over nuclear weapons.

It would be an over simplification to say that he was the only factor motivating Johnson's decision. But the importance of getting Soviet cooperation for peace in Viet Nam was most important.

After a month earlier, the president had followed up his Aug. 26 White House meeting with USA-USSR leaders by calling his advisors and asking what steps could be taken at大使馆. They recommended completion of the long-delayed agreement for direct flights between New York and Moscow.

This was the bone issue. But the real objective is to get Russian help in bringing North Vietnamese to the peace table. The Russians have been instrumental in getting the United Nations to accept the United Nations as the sole source of peace's plan.

And Gromyko has the authority to do this. He is no longer a member of the Politburo, but he is a member of the Central Committee. He knows that the United States has set forward some peace proposals that were before—and that the President has rejected himself to negotiate on them. In so doing, he also has made of Gromyko's main advice to use the atom bomb to finish the war.

So it is clear in Moscow that there is a difference between the man who was followed on his return from the White House and the man who now represents the White House in the peace of the world.

The Rights of Women formed the study topic of the Clermont Harbor Homemakers Club last Monday at the home of Mrs. Frank Zimmerman.

Mimes, Helen Hutchinson and Vida Smith mentioned previous minutes to be accepted and members decided to continue taking refreshments and go to the Children's Center on the second Friday of each month.

After hearing a report on the last council session, rendered by Mrs. J. T. Roussouw, a clothing renovation demonstration was given by Mrs. Marvin Burley.

Program planning day was set for Friday Nov. 4, in the Agricultural Center on Newgate Avenue, Bay St. Louis. Members are asked to come prepared for an all day business session. On this day homeowners records for the year will be collected and those who have not yet turned in their record of accomplishments are asked to do so at this time.

In a few days, reported Roberta Griffith, attorney for the board, Ms. and Mrs. J. Carter, couple in chief, had discharged his employees and turned in his bill that morning. Griffith suggested the supervisor get together with their attorneys as soon as possible.

Moskowitz, George Morris of Morris and Morris, another law firm which has been associated by the board in the case, wrote each supervisor Oct. 4 urging the two partners to have a plan of action with the court on the Oct. 24 deadline.

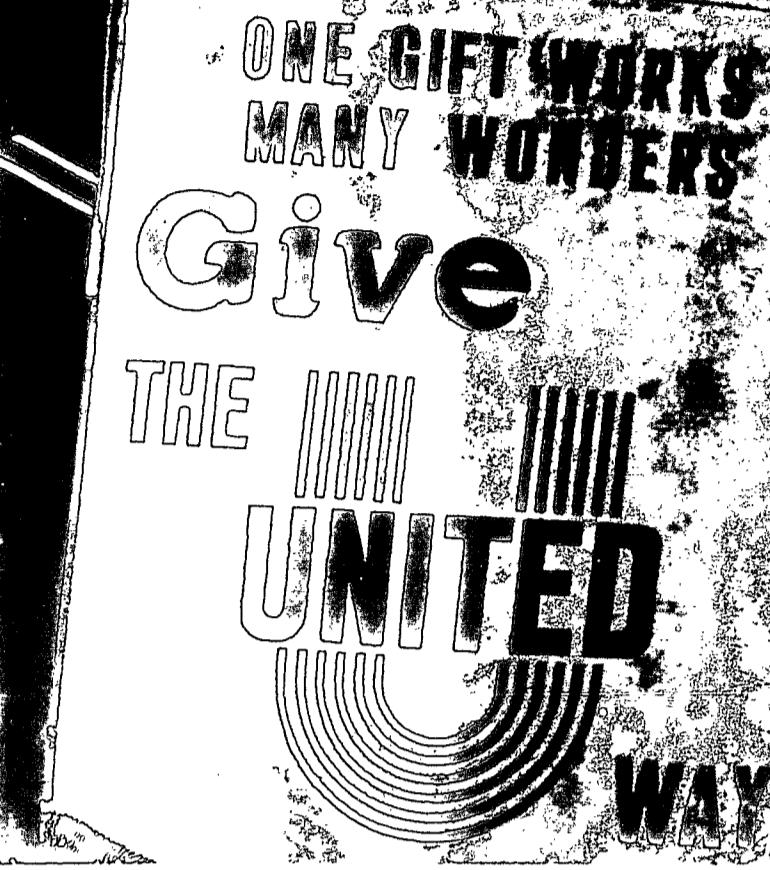

The U.S. District Clerk in Jackson has refused the board's request to bring the case to the court of the Supreme Court in the board's appeal, Morris reported. But, in effect, "Mr. Walker Phillips and I have concluded that it would be futile to attempt to obtain a stay of the decree,"

He expressed doubts that the three-judge court would grant additional time beyond Oct. 24 for the board to comply with its order to file a re-ordinating petition to comply with the decree.

Further to complicate, Morris observed, might subject opponents to consequences and the court might take this into consideration in passing on the question of whether the supervisory officials and as individuals may be held responsible for attorney's fees.

He advised that in his opinion it is not necessary for all five members of the board to agree on the plan in order to comply with the decree but a simple majority vote to all that is necessary. He suggested the board should vote on the plan at an official meeting and forward a transcript of the minutes to the court.

At long last we're able to come two paragraphs of news down to wrap the Jackson House story in a box.
As this has been such a involved project, several hours of work has been spent in digging up facts. By a rather odd circumstance, Ann (Mrs. Nick) Carbajal, widow of Dick Carbajal, former housewife Jackson Rider, plunged into research just about the time two began writing questions and, after writing to the same Lawyer Carter, she called the Perniciaro office in the Bay, trying to contact a friend who was working as an agent on this Property in Coronado, and when Carbajal discovered the location of her home, told her the tale of exploring the remains of the Jackson House when he was a very small boy. She has very generously agreed to have her findings in with ours and much will concern the period when the property was acquired by Gulf Oil Assembly. The late Rev.
John J. Jones, turned out to be a walking library on the subject.

and when it's gathered

Now we'll ask our old buddy, Joe Roseman, when it would be convenient to pick up his information and remind Milt Rundquist to lend us the pictures, we borrowed from his grandmother when visiting her former home in Switzerland.
All that we'll be looking to detail on the period when the home was operated as a hotel by Alphonse Favre's grandmother, this being the era between the time Andrew Jackson entertained friends in his winter home and when it was turned to the religious group. So, just in case we forget to call, how about compelling facts as you recall, please Alphonse, and around Christmas, we'll have the finished product.

News of the big bird

The court has once again been busy. Lillian and Joe Grimaldi are proud grandparents, but just forced to pass along the news. Their first grandchild, little Melania Michele Bifulco, arrived on Aug. 14, in Dalton, Ga., weighing seven pounds, seven ounces. Patricia and Larry are the glad parents.

Elephant in a whirlwind

Prentiss Walker, Republican aspirant for "good old Jim" Eastland's post, made it to the Bay just one week after he scheduled visit and took a whirlwind tour of the area, meeting out citizens and meeting and greeting the populace. He and his publicity man Dave Martin, then joined Virginia and Fred Wagner for dinner at the yacht club. He appeared to enjoy the gumbo though after smiling so broadly, so many for such an extended time, we can't imagine how the poor man had enough strength left to open his mouth. For the benefit of those who missed his beaming face, we'll have to be a most likeable young man, blonde, with a crew cut and much more resembled a college football coach than any politician.
His slogan was rattled only with concern (and we won't say it's tony and tell who), asked "how much are they paying for voted these days?" but recovered in time to reply that "he wasn't sure, but certainly not very much!"

Virginia reports that Goldwater's rally last Thursday at the Coliseum in Jackson drew a crowd of roughly 5,000. She added that her favorite candidate is much more handsome in the flesh than in photographs or on television.

Welcome home

Welcome back to Waveland Morris McGuire, the former Mountie Bourgeois, whose Mountie's Sporting and Toy Center is now open on Coleman Avenue. Morris purchased the home built by the late Dick MacKenzie, and has spent the past few weeks making damage wrought in a fire last spring.

By candlelight

Lots of get well wishes to disperse... seems as if just about everybody is falling in one way or another. Mayor John Scalfi was hospitalized again last Friday. Linda (Mrs. Fred Jr.) Bourgeois, took little Freddie to Jackson Saturday for a check-up as he was running temperature for an apparent reason. Shirley Whitlow and Frances Fausch are both having tummy trouble; (don't know if the similarity of their experiences has anything to do with it or not); Forrest Favre suffered a very painful eye injury when a chip of iron flew into his right eye Saturday and Louis (Mrs. Donald) McGuire had a trying week explaining that she got her "blister" while cutting green, a the water splashed a shell into her left eye.

Louis (Mrs. Henry) Johnson is looking wonderful since the work on her cataract eye and she is back to normal.

Around town Bob George entertained informally at his newly decorated reception center on Columbus Avenue last Monday night.
Some enjoying dips, chips, soft drinks and beverages while viewing movies, were Ruthie Coloma, Beverly Zimmerman, Helen Parker, Edith Truett, Dot Martin, Carol Johnson, Kirby McElroy, your reporter and a surprise visitor, Edna Suydam, whom we haven't seen in about 11 years.
Edna is Peggy Ruth's momma and was formerly a frequent visitor in Waveland. The family, now living in the Penn, is searching for remodeling outlets on this side of the bridge.

THE QUICK-SIZE DRIVING MAN

NOW, as many kinds as there are kinds of drivers to enjoy them—from the SS 396 (the Chevelle for the DRIVING MAN) to the brand new Concours Custom Wagon!

Long live Chevelle! And its trim dimensions, sharp performance and great maneuverability.

For '67, there's a new grille, new wraparound taillights and distinctive sheet-metal changes.

The effect is a never, more contemporary look.

As for specific models, one is completely new:

the sumptuous Concours Custom Wagon shown below, featuring the rich look of wood outside.

Then there's the SS 396 with a 396-cubic-inch

Turbo-Jet V8, special suspension and an even

Civil courtocket

Plaintiff wins one, defense the other

(Hold over from last week)

One jury was for the defendant and one for the plaintiff in the only two civil actions to go before the peers at the September term of Circuit Court which Judge Leslie B. Grace closed last week.

Winning a $5,000 judgment in an auto accident case was Robyn Beth Baech with sued Oscar Lewis. John Robert Lester was foreman of the jury.

An appeal in being perfected in John C. Chevalo vs. Mississippi Power Co. after the jury found for the defense. Chevalo sought $462.75 in actual damages and $2,045 in punitive damages—a total of $2,473.75—claimed the power company cut 131 poles and 4 oak on his property without his permission. Judge Grant then overruled a motion for a new trial or judgment notwithstanding the verdict.

Before the session closed, the judge passed to the files five criminal indictments returned at the September, 1965 term. Four were false pretense charges against Joe Done. The fifth was a bigamy charge against George Corley.

Default judgments comprised the bulk of the civil cases disposed of. They were:

James P. Martin vs. Marine City, Inc., and Walter Harwell, Jr., $3,042.59; Thorp Finance Corp. vs. Morris L. and Carolyn Haetherington, $1,562.22; Medical Credit Service, Inc., vs. Mrs. Carrie Layne, $631 with one day of execution; Mastoyer Lumber vs. Oscar Breland, $301.13; Merchants Insurance Agency vs. Walter R. Harwell, Jr., $979.74; Fred Sutter, the Sutter Well Works vs. Walter R. Harwell, Jr., $1,207.50; Rhodes, Inc., vs. Doyle Dean, goods valued at $635.37; Gordon Garcia vs. Jo Ann Ditchero, $1,154; Hancock Bank vs. Allen Frederick, $250.55; Mestayo Lumber vs. Remo Industries, Inc., $1,121.98; Bank of Picayune vs. Ervin Nease et al., $1,467.05; Gulf Oil vs. Pearl G. Dupont, $347.09; Ervin Lockley vs. Gerald Von Anz, $253.09; Public Finance vs. Floyd Litch, $277.84.

Settled and dismissed were:

Charles B. Mertz vs. Richard Lovall and Edward Crappel, with prejudice to defendant's cost; Monti-Carver Plumbing vs. Claude and Hazel Tracy, a plaintiff's cost; Schilling Parkway Motors, Inc., vs. Mr. Louis Randolph, without prejudice; National Advertising Co. vs. Eugene R. Rinchart, Jr., dba Holiday Sands; Emma Williams vs. Steve Eberhart.

Non-suited were: R. M. Marchand and Co. vs. M. J. Langlrand, without prejudice; Weston Koda vs. Mrs. Leonie Lodison, at plaintiff's request; Michael D. Hess for Bay St. Louis office of Commercial Finance Co. vs. Alvin Flowers, Andre Flowers and Mrs. Myrtle Johnson; Commercial Finance Co. vs. Clara Mae Dorsey and Louis Bridges.

Judgments by a court of record were entered in Monti-Carver Plumbing vs. Robert L. Gipson, $500; plus attorney fees and a one-year stay of execution; Monticello Production Credit Assn. vs. John L. Lester, $1,342.15; Paul M. Lewis vs. Rev. R. N. Smith, $250 with six-month stay.

Defendants were given time to answer in these cases:

Elaine Nelson vs. Cliff and Joe Wilder, 90 days; Piedmont Moulding Co. vs. Robert J. Gedger, 90 days; Lester R. Steckler vs. Picayune Insurance Co., 90 days; John Payne, Jr., vs. Travelers Indemnity Co., 90 days; Time-Picayune Publishing Co. vs. Walter L. Arreave, J. H. Spiro and William Reinhardt, 90 days for Spiro and Reinhardt, plus numerous lawsuits for Lawrence and Russell-Baker Finance vs. Lester and Modeline Prendergast, 90 days.

In the cause of Roger Heitmann, dba Superior Supply, vs. Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Mitchell, a judgment was entered for $851.45 with a lien on the defendant's lot in Silver Crest Acres. The court found, in Siddle Finance Co. vs. Eugene C. and Marlene Martin, that the plaintiff is barred from recovery because of the defendant's bankruptcy and the case was dismissed with prejudice.

In General Motors Acceptance Corp. vs. Jimmie C. Reynolds, the defendant entered to object if prosecution only is adjudged to the plaintiff and an order was subsequently entered fixing value of the vehicle at $1,000. Defense motion to quash the proceeding was overruled in James V. Sharp and wife vs. Merchants Insurance Co. and the suit was continued to the next term.

Hancock and Merchants Banks were dismissed on garnishments with $18.89 to apply to the judgment in U. S. Rubber vs. Jimmie B. O'Bannon, dba Truck Town. A default judgment had been entered at the previous term. In Edward L. Elliott vs. Barbara Cunningham, the plaintiff was returned a 1960 model auto valued at $1,000. A '65 model auto was valued at $1,500 and the plaintiff refused acceptance in General Motors Acceptance vs. Winfred L. Anderson. Dismissed on the plaintiff's motion was Dexter Barr for the State Tax Commission vs. Dennis J. Tartoouille and Sears.

Shoulda gone fishin'

Fishing tops all records

Bull croakers and Orioles occupied local sportmen last week.

The annual fall run of bulls has started but good and it's no bull that we picked Baltimore who won the carries in four straight. We stuck to our guns despite jeers and taunts from co-workers, friends, experts and professional oddsmakers.

But back to the bulls, they started biting last Thursday and fishing was good through Saturday. Sunday's high east winds, bringing in exceptionally high tides, were unfavorable but the cool front that moved in Monday night should turn things up again. Flounders and soft shell crabs should be available now, Dan.

Century for lucky two

Jimmie Travirca went in Heron Bay Saturday with Cliff Voi of Lakeshore and loaded up with 80 bull croakers and 20 speckled trout, not counting the little ones they threw back.

Lucky Jimmie is going on a three day trip to the marshes Wednesday with J.C. Strong, Slim and A. R. Bell. If this weather holds up — wow!

We are invited to make an airplane fishing trip with Jack Seuzeneau this weekend and will let you know if we get up the nerve.

Laurent Kergosien had two good partners last week. On one trip with Sheriff Sylvan Ladner they caught 164 bull croakers, etc. up the Pearl River, which proves it's a good idea to take the low along. He caught 120 the previous day with another expert, Alden Maufray.

Tiger's teeth lose edge

Turning to local football, the Bay High - Long Beach game last Friday was a dilly as it always is. Tiger mentor Lance Lumpkin coached there before coming to Bay High and the Bearcats are always after his hide.

Steve Davis, Tiger statistician, told us Tuesday that the Tigers emerged from the fray with their backfield in bad shape. Key man Alex Romanoff, who has been playing quarterback and fullback, suffered a severe sprained ankle and won't play this Friday against St. Martin.

So Lumpkin will probably use Don Estapa and Freddie Breland in the key spot with Ronnie Penton at fullback and Perry Stephens at left half. Marshal Wilcox may get the nod at right half.

Don Favre also sprained his ankle in the Long Beach tussle. He will probably play Friday but won't have his usual speed. David Nece is still out with a shoulder separation received in the Harrison Central game. So Lumpkin's proteges will be limping Friday night against St. Martin.

Love's labor

The paper was tight last week and a lot of our stuff was omitted so here it is if there's room.

There's no use going on and on about the fine fishing throughout the county this year. We've been expounding on it week after week so today we're just going to remind you that this is one of the best fall seasons ever and you're missing the boat if you aren't getting your share.

And you don't have to go far, they're right here in the Bay, up the Jordan and Pearl Rivers, Bayou Caddy and all the spots in the Heron Bay area.

To prove the point, Jimmy Giannetta caught 70 white trout off the railroad bridge the other day using cut white trout for bait. Some of them had a pretty good size, too.

Game abounds in area

Anyhow, we have some good news on the hunting situation. Rabbits and squirrel are plentiful this year, our scouts report, and the bob limit on each has been upped from five to eight. My mouth is drooling as we think about the luscious little creatures cut up and fried. There are many ways to cook 'em but that's the way we like 'em.

Miller averages

18 yards per catch vs. Texas

Hauling down nine passes for a total of 165 yards Saturday night at Arlington, Tex., Frank Miller, of Bay St. Louis, moved into a tie for second place on the all-time list of pass receivers at McNeese State College. And the season is still young.

Despite this brilliant performance the Lake Charles, La., squad lost in Arlington, 20-0, and are now 2-2 for the season. The bulldogs have six games remaining and play Northeast Louisiana at home this Saturday.

Last Saturday, Miller's biggest catch was a 61-yard carol, the others were 13, 13, 12 and 11.

MOBILE X-RAY UNIT

Long Beach quarterback Chuck Thomas should have been pitching for the Dodgers last weekend.

The young Bearcat threw three passes that were good for three touchdowns and a 20-6 victory over Bay High Friday night in Tiger stadium here.
